BRIEFINGS

A Wish Upon a Star—Come True!

Gala Raises $1.6 Million for Birth Center Transformation

John Muir Health's annual premier fundraising event raised a remarkable $1.6 million to benefit the Birth Center and is a testament to the community's commitment to enhancing health care services for growing families in Contra Costa and surrounding communities.

In a spectacular event that will be etched in the memories of attendees, the 10th annual Celebrate John Muir Health! gala took place on Saturday, November 4, at the Concord Jet Center—generously provided by Jean Hofmann and Lisa Hofmann. Upon arrival, guests were transported into the pages of a children's storybook and guided through the enchanted forest and fairytale castle, where they enjoyed the whimsy of this year's theme, Wish Upon a Star.

Mike Thomas, John Muir Health President and CEO, made a significant announcement to kick off the event. After generously donating $15 million to the Campaign to Conquer Cancer in 2022 and issuing a $10 million challenge grant, which was met in 2023, the Hofmann Family Foundation's combined gift of $25 million was the largest ever received by John Muir Health. This transformational gift has established the UCSF-John Muir Health Jean and Ken Hofmann Cancer Center.

John Muir Health stands as a shining star in aiding families as they walk a cancer journey or welcome new life into the world. The gala brings together individuals who recognize the invaluable service provided by John Muir Health and who are dedicated to supporting its mission.

As the community expresses its gratitude for the success of the 2023 Celebrate John Muir Health! gala, it is evident that the impact of this event extends far beyond the glamour of the evening. It symbolizes a shared commitment to building a healthier and more vibrant community, where the arrival of new life is celebrated with first-class health care services and unwavering support from the community.

WHY WE GIVE

A Labor of Love for Donors Holly and Vojin Kos

Holly and Vojin Kos embarked upon their parenthood journey with high hopes. They hired a doula, hoped for a natural birth, and practiced breathing exercises. Despite the occasional worries about what could go wrong with the pregnancy, they felt well-supported and confident in the team of physicians and nurses at John Muir Health's Birth Center.

Holly's excitement grew as she neared her due date, and she looked forward to the day their newest family member would arrive. She and Vojin created a birth plan and expected it would be followed to a T. But things didn't go as planned...

As Holly's labor progressed, she faced unexpected hurdles. Timed contractions led Holly and Vojin to John Muir Health early one morning, but when her labor stalled, she opted to labor at home. Unfortunately, exhaustion set in after almost 48 hours without sleep, and Holly returned to the Birth Center at John Muir Health. This time, though Holly was fully dilated, the baby had not descended enough, and there was more work to be done. With guidance from her exceptional John Muir Health team and a few strong pushes, Baby Kos made his way into the world!

"After experiencing an overwhelmingly positive delivery at John Muir Health's Birth Center, our perspective shifted from merely viewing it as a birthing location to a place for which we felt immense gratitude," said Vojin. "Our donation was rooted in the desire to extend the positive experience we had to more people undergoing the transformative journey of starting a family. By sharing our good fortune, we aimed to alleviate the fears and anxieties that individuals might face in a hospital setting, particularly during the profound and emotional process of childbirth."
