

Honoring Generosity

2009 Report of Philanthropy and Honor Roll of Donors

John Muir Health & John Muir Health Foundation

Dear Friends,

Your generosity has meant so much to the health of our community.

We have an exciting year ahead and want you to know what you can expect in the future from John Muir Health. In the fall, the Concord Campus will open the Hofmann Family Patient Care Tower and in the spring of 2011, the Walnut Creek Campus will open the Tom and Billie Long Patient Care Tower.

What will this mean to you if you need health services? More inpatient privacy, more space in the emergency departments, more operating rooms, a new Cardiovascular Institute, seismically compliant buildings and the same high-quality health care that you have always received from John Muir Health.

As we look forward to these new additions to our campuses, John Muir Health continues to receive quality of care awards and accolades from peer organizations and consumer groups alike.

In 2009, both campuses of John Muir Health have been recognized with the highest level of Chest Pain Center Accreditation from the Society of Chest Pain Centers, earned a three-year accreditation with commendation as Network Cancer Programs from the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer and been recognized as the Best of the Best Family Favorite Hospital by BayArea Parent readers.

Once again John Muir Medical Center-Walnut Creek Campus was ranked as one of the nation's top hospitals by U.S. News & World Report.

John Muir Medical Center – Concord Campus was ranked by HealthGrades among the top five hospitals in California for cardiac surgery and received a five-star rating for the treatment of heart attacks and heart failure.

In addition, our two medical centers are the only hospitals in the East Bay to receive the Distinguished Hospitals for Clinical Excellence award from HealthGrades. We are proud of these accomplishments and know they could not have been achieved without our outstanding physicians, nurses, staff, volunteers and donors. In 2009, your continuing financial commitments resulted in the John Muir Health Foundation receiving a total of $14,936,000 in gifts and pledges for both current needs and for the new buildings. Thank you for your gifts in spite of the uncertain financial times and for your ongoing support of John Muir Health.

Sincerely,

Howard L. Jenkins

Family thanks John Muir caregivers

The excellent care “provided a tremendous comfort during an emotional time.”

Three and a half years ago, Natalie and Cole Goldstein were born prematurely at John Muir Medical Center – Walnut Creek. This fall when Cole had an accident which necessitated a quick trip to the Emergency Department, the Goldsteins had another memorable experience at John Muir. The emergency physician was “amazing and placed a follow-up call to our house the next day,” said Cole’s father. This second John Muir encounter inspired Michael Goldstein to send a letter along with a contribution and praise John Muir for the family’s experience after the birth of their twins in the fall of 2006. As Michael Goldstein phrased it, “Natalie had a 10-day vacation at the Hotel NICU while Cole had a 14-day extended stay. Words can’t express the appreciation my wife and I have for the nurses and doctors that took care of our babies during those critical days.”

After her discharge, Diane Goldstein was at the hospital every morning and stayed late into the night. Michael would join her after work. They would usually go home by the 11:30 pm shift change. Nighttime was the most difficult time of the day for Diane and Michael, but they said that they were better able to leave knowing that Cole and Natalie were receiving “excellent care which provided tremendous comfort during a very emotional time.”

Diane and Michael Goldstein are envious of the plans for the new NICU which will accommodate a parent who wishes to stay overnight in the thirty-three private NICU rooms (two are twin rooms). Other family friendly areas in the NICU will be a family lounge and playroom for siblings and a parent’s bathroom.

They still remember the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) nurses and appreciated how honest and forthright they were in communicating about the babies' progress.

Several months after Cole was home, his pediatrician had concerns about his motor development and requested a referral to John Muir's High Risk Infant Follow-up Clinic. The clinic is designed for babies who have received care in the NICU at John Muir. During the visits, the team of specialist and nurses perform physical and neurological evaluations. Diane brought Cole in to the Neonatologist team which recommended physical therapy to assist Cole with his large motor development. Later occupational therapy was recommended to improve his fine motor development. All during this time his mother was also following through with Cole on exercises at home. Cole's last appointment was on January 5, 2009. According to his doctors, he responded beautifully to the interventions he had received and at the time of discharge was functioning in the normal range for his chronological age. Diane is very grateful to John Muir for this additional service provided to John Muir NICU graduates. This early intervention undoubtedly provided Cole with the extra help that he needed.

Today, Natalie and Cole are full of energy and mischief. Cole is determined to become as skilled on his skateboard as the big boys next door and Natalie is a talkative young lady who challenges her brother to a race in the backyard in spite of her party dress apparel.

they should drive to the hospital, but when Francine stood up, she passed out. He called 911 at 6:46 am.

In August of 2009, Francine Confetti of Pittsburgh awoke one Saturday morning and felt pressure in her chest. She thought it was indigestion. Because the pressure persisted, she woke her husband Dominic and asked him to bring her a 7-Up to relieve the indigestion. When he returned with the drink, she was perspiring profusely. Dom thought determine that they need to go to a STEMI receiving center and so they activate their STEMI system.

A STEMI is a high risk heart attack. A STEMI system is a network that incorporates Emergency Medical Services and the Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory. Both the Walnut Creek and Concord campuses are designated STEMI RECEIVING CENTERS by Contra Costa County. These centers allow for rapid assessment, diagnosis, and immediate treatment/intervention in the cardiac catheterization lab using a coordinated team approach.

6:58 am On the way to the hospital, the paramedics repeat the EKG and this time it reads Acute Myocardial Infarction so their decision to activate the STEMI earlier was confirmed.

7:05 am Dr. Kavanaugh and the Cath Lab are alerted.

7:15 am Francine arrives at the Emergency Department at John Muir Medical Center – Concord Campus.

7:20 am A 2nd IV line is started because of low blood pressure and Francine is placed on a cardiac monitor with pacing because of her low Heart Rate.

7:25 am Patrick Kavanaugh, M.D. arrives and speaks with Francine and Dominic.

is cleared with a door to balloon time of 41 minutes.

Once the blood flow is reestablished a patient experiences an incredible feeling of good health. Dr. Kavanaugh said he has had some patients ask if they can go home. However, Francine, like all cardiac patients was admitted to a cardiac monitoring unit and observed for 24 to 48 hours. Risk factors such as diabetes, blood pressure, cholesterol and smoking are addressed if present and advice and counseling on diet and exercise is provided before release as well as cardiac medications that are indicated. Follow-up visits are arranged with the cardiologist on a regular basis.

7:49 am The procedure starts.

7:56 am Balloon inflation occurs and Francine's heart blockage

*Research has shown that a patient's survival improves when the blocked coronary artery is re-opened within 90 minutes after arrival in the Emergency Department. The 90 minute time is called "door to balloon time." Francine Confetti's excellent door to balloon time is indicative of the teamwork between EMT and John Muir Emergency Services and the cardiology team of specialists which assure a successful outcome for our heart attack patients.

The garden level of the new tower will house five large cardiac cath labs (see dark green rooms). Also on the garden level are the recovery lounge, the 12 prep and recovery rooms, and the cardiologist's workroom. The new emergency department is on the first floor directly above this area allowing for quick transport to the cardiac cath labs.

The many faces of brain injury

John Muir's medical teamwork brings about extraordinary recovery

For brain injury, stroke, brain/spine tumors, acute and/or chronic back disorders, the John Muir Neurosciences Institute (NSI) provides a continuum of expert care. The NSI integrates the clinical expertise of neurosurgeons, neurologists, interventional neuro radiologists, radiation oncologists, neuropsychologist and physiatrists in one of the most comprehensive programs in Northern California for diagnosis, treatment and consultation.

two teenagers. In February, he returned to dancing thanks to the neurosurgeons, neuropsychologists and the rehabilitation team at John Muir. His excellent physical condition aided his astonishing recovery.

"Our Brain Injury Program is hospital wide streamlining our treatment of traumatic brain injury dramatically. The Brain Injury Program involves many services, Neurosciences, Trauma, Rehab and others. Very few other hospitals have a program of such depth. Patients are out of the hospital in fewer days and at a higher functional level. Rehab takes them earlier and they 'graduate' as close to their previous healthy state as possible," says Terence L. Chen, M.D., Medical Director of Neurosurgical Services and current Chief of Staff at the Walnut Creek Medical Center.

In 2005, Henry Brooks, an Air Force reservist, was airlifted from Travis Air Force Base in Standing with Clinical Director of Neuropsychology Susan Colligan, Ph.D. are Neurosurgeons Drs. Terence L. Chen, Richard G. Perrin, and George J. Counelis. Neurosurgery services are a rarity in Northern California and John Muir serves as a regional resource. The new patient care tower will provide more intensive care beds allowing John Muir to accept more neurosurgery transfers.

Vacaville after he collapsed from a massive hemorrhage caused by a rare vascular malformation in his brain. The entire NSI team was involved with his care. He went through months of intensive treatment learning to talk and walk again. Recently he and his family flew from Texas to attend the 2009 annual rehabilitation reunion.

"What's interesting about neurological recovery is that it takes a long time. In a case like Henry's, it's really great to see how much function and cognition is restored over time. We don't always get to see that," commented Dr. Chen.

In March of 2008, 16-year old Brian Gee was hit in the head with a baseball. After nine weeks of medical and rehabilitation treatment, Brian came home and started on his out-patient course of recovery. Brian made up his sophomore year school work during the summer and returned to high school full-time as a junior with his class at Miramonte High School in Orinda. Recently Brian received his acceptance to UC-Berkeley and will be studying economics at Cal next fall. "While we thank staff at John Muir for your medical and technical skills, we most want to thank you for your caring and humanity - the hugs, encouragement, and kind and hopeful words," reminisces his mother Darlene Gee.

A key recent acquisition used in the NSI is the powerful 3T MRI scanner which allows advanced neuroimaging of the brain. Recommended by Interventional Radiologist Dr. Ira Finch because of its multiple uses and superior imaging, the functional MRI "helps us figure out how the parts of the brain work. Now we can correlate function with anatomy. This makes brain surgery much safer," remarked Dr. Chen.

Neurosurgeon Dr. Geoffrey R. Adey remarks on the recent acquisition of the functional MRI scanner. "We are applying this at a higher level than many major universities and our large group of neuropsychologists are able to use it in patient care."

In December of 2009, the WPC funded three John Muir Health services. First, a treadmill, a recumbent elliptical machine, and a portable spirometer were funded for the Pulmonary Rehabilitation Program which provides comprehensive outpatient care for people with chronic lung disease. Second, thorascopic instruments were funded for use in minimally invasive surgery by thoracic surgeons at Walnut Creek and, finally, fifteen mobile phones were funded for the emergency department at Concord which will assist the staff while at the bedside to communicate if needed with physicians and patient families. The WPC also stepped forward to make a pledge to the Capital Campaign of $50,000 to be split between the two building projects.

The Capital Campaign

for John Muir Health

Pictured above is the Concord Campus main entrance where art will be displayed and the garden between the new and existing buildings will be visible. Below is the Walnut Creek inner courtyard which connects the existing and new lobby. The architectural elements in each building will be enhanced by serene gardens and visual art ensuring that the entire patient and visitor experience is one that promises and fosters inspiration and comfort as well as exceptional medical service.

Thank you!
