2010 Annual Report and Honor Roll of Donors
John Muir Health & John Muir Health Foundation
Dear Friends,

Your generosity has meant so much to the health of our community.

Because of you, the community has two new patient care towers in Walnut Creek and Concord with brand new expanded emergency departments that provide healthcare to everyone who enters the doors. Because of you, the community has available state of the art ICUs for adults and tiny infants. Because of you, community members receive the highest level of treatment for heart attacks and heart failure. Because of you, the new and larger Trauma Center will be well-equipped to serve traumatic injuries in the East Bay for a long time to come.

This has been an outstanding year for John Muir Health. We have the distinction of having two of the four Magnet nursing hospitals in the greater Bay Area. Numerous quality awards have been received including recognition from U.S. News & World Report, Thomson Reuters, the American Heart Association, American Stroke Association, Health Grades and many others. The opening of the two new towers has assured every patient of more privacy and comfort in a healing environment which includes room for family members and tranquil gardens for their use.

John Muir Health thanks you on behalf of the community at large. Listed in this report are the names of those who have helped the campaign, who have contributed to purchases for current needs through the annual fund and who have helped to build endowments for the future of healthcare.

Thank you,

Architectural vision, clinical expertise, and talented construction teams created two towers that will enhance patient care for generations to come.

To meet the needs of an ever-expanding population and to meet the new California seismic requirements, John Muir Health embarked on two significant building projects in Concord and Walnut Creek.

The building projects had two goals. The first was to create flexible, dynamic hospital environments that would be adaptable to future medical and technical innovations. The second was to meet pent-up demand for inpatient beds and clinical services. Patient privacy and the creation of healing environments were important elements in the architectural design.

In 2004 the design and development phases of the projects were initiated and in 2008 after all plans were approved by the respective cities, construction began. We appreciate the many donors who supported the building projects during this critical time. Thank you for joining John Muir Health in improving the health of our community.

The Hofmann Family Patient Care Tower in Concord opened on November 16, 2010

The Patient Care Tower houses both the Cardiovascular Institute of John Muir Health and an expanded emergency department. The John Muir Health Cardiovascular Institute (CVI) consolidates complex cardiac procedures and clinical services in a new state-of-the-art facility in Concord. The expanded emergency department meets the urgent need for more capacity.

The new building includes:

- Five large cardiac cath labs and 12 pre-operative/recovery bays on the garden level
- 12 cardiovascular ICU private rooms
- 39 telemetry private rooms
- A well-balanced integration of natural light, color, texture and varied ceiling heights and a reception area open to a serene garden and water feature.
- The expanded emergency department triples the square footage of the former emergency department and includes imaging technology within the department.
- The patient care tower also includes room for expansion to replace facilities as they become obsolete and to accommodate growth of programs, new program initiatives and changes in delivery of care.

Ken and Jean Hofmann are honored at the opening donor dinner celebrating the completion of The Hofmann Family Patient Care Tower.
David A. Birdsall, M.D., Chief of Staff, speaks at the Community VIP opening celebration.

Mike Thomas, President and CAO of John Muir Medical Center – Concord, delivers his remarks at the Community VIP opening celebration.

This “Pepper Tree” sculpture is based on a photo of the pepper tree originally located at the hospital’s main entrance. Its presence welcomed patients and visitors for many years. Today, this sculpture is placed in the new main entrance to the hospital.
The Tom and Billie Long Patient Care Tower in Walnut Creek opened on April 17, 2011

John Muir Health and community representatives celebrated the opening with a ribbon cutting for The Tom and Billie Long Patient Care Tower on March 31, 2011. This comprehensive critical care tower doubles the square footage of the current medical center and combines advanced technology, much-needed capacity, and architectural elements that are enhanced by natural light, serene gardens and inspirational artwork. Our medical teams have always provided exceptional care and outstanding services to patients. Today, the highest quality of care is delivered in a state-of-the-art facility.

The new building includes:

- A 24-bed trauma/neuroscience ICU
- Three new surgery suites, private pre-op rooms and a separate recovery area.
- The Joseph M. Long Neonatal Nursery for the most fragile infants
- New private patient rooms with space for family members to stay overnight
- A separate public elevator and corridor system which enhances patient privacy
- A relocated rooftop helipad with a high-speed trauma elevator going directly to the trauma rooms located in the Theresa M. Caygill Emergency Department.

Sidne J. Long, daughter of Tom and Billie Long and trustee of The Thomas J. Long Foundation, spoke of her parents’ community involvement at the dinner honoring donors.

The river of light, another creation of Gordon Huether, runs from the front of the building to the waterfall near La Casa Via connecting the sections of The Sharon Garden.

Cindy Silva, Mayor of Walnut Creek, on the left of Ken Anderson and Terence Chen, M.D., Chief of Staff, on the right of Jane Willemsen.

Napa artist Gordon Huether created the 200-foot mountain range, made of steel and glass which peaks at nine feet.

Peter H. Rowe, M.D. center is standing in front of the Peter H. Rowe Medical Surgical East wing which was named in his honor by Janet and Rick Cronk. Medical Surgical West was named by the Cronks in honor of Sally L. Davis, M.D. With Peter is his uncle, Oliver D. Hamlin, his wife Sandy, Janet Cronk, and his aunt Judith R. Tulloch. Oliver D. Hamlin, also named a patient room on the acute rehabilitation wing on the fourth floor.

The Rotunda connects the new south lobby with the existing north lobby and is one of many restful garden views in The Tom and Billie Long Patient Care Tower.
Thank you Capital Campaign Donors!

Ken Anderson, CEO and President of John Muir Health, retires

March 31, 2011 was the official ribbon cutting ceremony for the Tom and Billie Long Patient Care Tower and also the day that J. Kendall Anderson retired after more than 36 years at John Muir Health.

During Ken’s tenure as President of John Muir Medical Center (Walnut Creek), the Trauma Center was designated as the only Level II Center for Contra Costa County, The Phase III building in Walnut Creek opened, the Neonatal Intensive Care Nursery was designated as the first Level III NICU in the county, and the merger between Mt. Diablo Medical Center and John Muir Medical Center was finalized in 1997. In 2003, the ground-breaking for the Brentwood property occurred which now serves the growing East County population. With The Hofmann Family Patient Care Tower in Concord and The Tom and Billie Long Patient Care Tower in Walnut Creek, Ken ventured into the area of lead gift fundraising with great success. Certainly, he is a man of many talents.

Harry J. MacDannald, M.D., a recent Chief of Staff, made the following observations about Ken in the April issue of Physician News.

“To be the longest-serving CEO in California is no small feat. Though a CEO is in charge of an organization, he has to serve demands from many different people. Boards of directors, medical staff members, community and business leaders, donors, and myriad governmental agencies all require satisfaction. I have been impressed with Ken’s indefatigable ability to remain engaged in so many aspects of John Muir Health. His career is not only admirable for his dedication, but his years of service have been a great gift to the communities that we serve by cultivating an organization dedicated to providing excellent care for our patients.”

Thank you, Ken, from all your constituents.

Ryan spent his third birthday in the hospital!

On the evening of January 7, 2011, Ryan Pearson Waters was admitted to John Muir Medical Center – Walnut Creek. His mom wrote: “We just had our first (and hopefully last) stay on the pediatrics unit. The care and attention that we received was phenomenal. We loved the playroom too!”

Dr. Tom Tighe examined Ryan in the emergency department. Dr. Bradley Zerweck, one of John Muir Health’s in-house pediatricians, saw him in the ED, admitted him to pediatrics and followed him till he was discharged. His mom reported on the family blog, “Ryan had the flu so bad on his birthday that we ended up in the ER. He got an IV, an ultra-sound, CT scan and 3 bags of fluids. I got to spend the night with him, squished in his bed.”

If this had happened just a few months later, mom would have had her own bed on the new pull-out couch in the room. In fact, in every pediatric room and most of the patient rooms in the new patient care tower, there is a bed for a family member. Although the care at John Muir Medical Center before and after the opening of the new building was excellent, the new building provides room for a family member in the patient rooms. Having family nearby is an important component to the healing process.

Ryan was able to leave the hospital on the next afternoon in much better shape than he entered and celebrated his birthday the next weekend at Gymtastic with all his energy back for the party.

Sally L. Davis, M.D. stands near the recognition plaque on the fifth floor which lists the Sally L. Davis, M.D. Medical Surgical West wing named in her honor by Rick and Janet Cronk.
Ten years after a frightening cardiac condition, she returns to John Muir Health as a project manager

In her junior year, Cristina Lucchese, a high school student at Carondelet, was diagnosed with a life-threatening heart condition. After her successful rehabilitation, she was pictured in the JMHF 2000 Annual Report with her cardiologist Timothy Carlton, M.D. and Lori Turner, R.N. cardiac rehabilitation manager. Today she has a BSE and MBA from St. Mary’s College and is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP). Her resume shows careers at SBC (AT & T) and in marketing in the credit card division of Washington Mutual until the bank was sold.

When another cardiac procedure was recommended, Cristina used her downtime after Washington Mutual to have a defibrillator put in place. This is a routine procedure for an older person but not for a 20’s something woman. For cosmetic reasons, it needed to be placed in a less conventional, out of sight area of the chest. Her cardiac electrophysiologist, Susan J. Eisenberg, M.D., enlisted cardiac surgeon, Andreas Kamlot, M.D. who created a surgical pouch in which to insert the defibrillator. This collaborative procedure had both a cardiac surgeon and a cardiologist working together in the operating room.

Soon after recovery, Cristina noticed a job opening at John Muir Health and was hired as a project manager for the transition team.

Cristina knew from a patient’s perspective of the dedication of the physicians and nursing staff, but she found her experience as a project manager for the transition team at Concord and Walnut Creek very enlightening. As she worked with the planning teams of employees from plant operations, environmental services, techs, RNs and nursing assistants, she discovered that all hospital employees cared deeply about patient care. She was impressed with how hard everyone worked together to make the move to the new buildings a seamless transition for the patients.

Cristina’s accomplishments reflect her outstanding talents and her employee experience deepened her understanding of the team’s commitment behind the care that she received at John Muir Health.
There are twenty-four new intensive care patient rooms adjacent to surgery in the patient care tower at Walnut Creek.
The Women’s Philanthropic Circle (WPC) enables its members, who contribute $1,000 annually, to pool resources for the purpose of funding clinical programs or projects at John Muir Health. We recognize here those members of the WPC for 2010.

In December of 2010, the WPC funded a Biodex balance unit for the Rehabilitation Center at Rossmoor which provides a computerized system to assess and train patients in the recovery of their balance skills. The WPC also funded tracking screens for the Emergency Medical Center in Concord and Walnut Creek. These screens help maintain the visible to all who need it.

Financial Information

We are pleased to report to the community that in 2010, John Muir Health saw positive results from our operations and fundraising. As a not-for-profit, locally governed and community-based organization, our focus remains firmly on improving the health of the communities we serve. All of our remaining funds are reinvested in the community in much-needed programs, upgraded advanced technology, community services and in this current year - the building projects.
